Politics affecting caliber of enforcement, courts?

Political aspects of life in Madison County were a contributing factor to the caliber of law enforcement and court procedures, federal grand jury testimony by Madison Alderman Ronald Grzywacz indicates.

A former Madison policeman, Grzywacz testified to grand jurors Sept. 15, 1977, according to a later federal trial exhibit. He told of picking up payoffs as his means of conducting an undercover investigation of the conduct of deputies.

Part of the exhibit follows:
Q: "Were there any other taverns that you felt were actually being shaken down by the sheriff's office?"

A: "Yes, the Marco Polo Lounge just outside of Granite City."

Q: "Who was into the Marco Polo Lounge?"

A: "You mean owners or the deputies?"

Q: "I really don't think there was a deputy involved. I'm getting higher and higher into my investigation. From what I talked to the owner and what he said, he didn't have to talk to the deputies because he knew the judge."

Q: "He knew the judge?"

A: "Yes, sir."

Q: "Therefore he was protected?"

A: "Right."

Q: "Who was the judge he was referring to?"

A: "Judge Gitchoff."

Q: "Who was the proprietor of the Marco Polo?"

A: "A guy from Chicago by the name of Schaffer. John Cooper introduced me to this man."

Q: "Did Cooper get you into anywhere else? Was there anywhere?"

A: "I believe these are the places, this Marco Polo Lounge, but he never — we never got anything there because he said he didn't have to pay off, he knew the judge."

Q: "Was there any other tavern, we're still speaking of taverns, was there any other tavern that you felt was being shaken down by the sheriff's office?"

A: "Yes, there was a few more. I think the Highway House was one, but I just

Seek action on sheriff's department

Despite criticism by Legislative Committee Chairman James Hill of Godfrey that the Granite City may be seeking "the center of the stage," Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney said Friday he will renew his effort to obtain a study of the sheriff's department.

He obtained voice board approval in July for evaluation of trial testimony about alleged misconduct by persons representing the department. But the committee indicated it won't proceed, noting that a trial transcript might cost $2,000.

Partney plans to speak out again at the Aug. 16 board meeting, urging that an investigation be made, leading to a board recommendation to the sheriff's merit commission on whether any department members should be fired or disciplined for misdeeds.

"If they would just buy some newspapers that covered the trial, they

Tank car blast worries county

Fire in a propane tank car that exploded late Saturday in a derailment at a rail crossing just north of Collinsville was reported under control this morning.

Approximately 200 persons who were evacuated from a mile-square area around the site of the explosion probably will be permitted to return to their homes this afternoon, State Police reported.

The tank car which burned furiously through Saturday night and Sunday, still was smoldering shortly before noon today, but the danger posed by the fire to five other cars carrying liquid propane had been eliminated, authorities said.

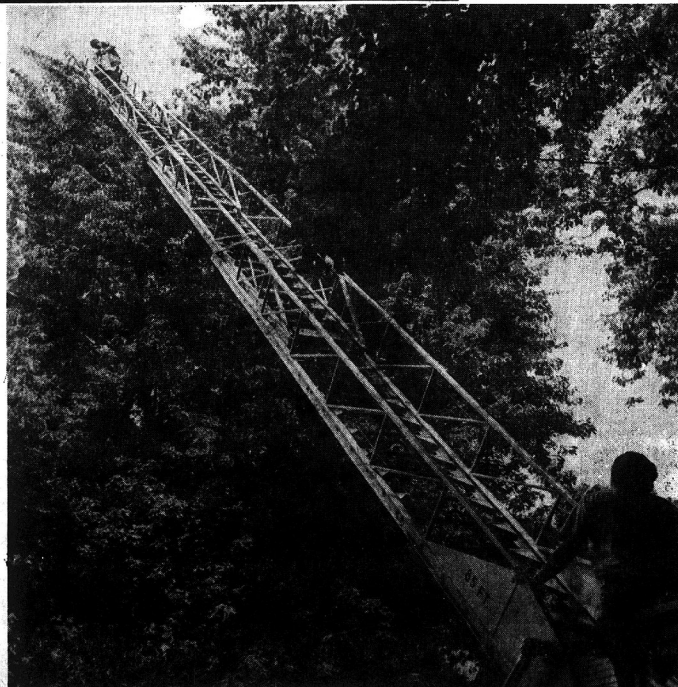

Illinois Terminal Railroad workers were expected to begin clearing the debris caused by the derailment and explosion this afternoon. Six cars carrying the liquid gas were in the derailed section of the train, but only one exploded.

The explosion occurred at 11:58 p.m. Saturday in a searing fire that could be seen for miles. Residents of Granite City reported seeing the blaze from here. The cars derailed and the propane tank car exploded at the Illinois Terminal Railroad crossing at Kessler Avenue just north of

STARLING CONTROL through the use of harmless chemical is attempted Thursday afternoon in trees at the home of Robert Butler, 2361 Lynch Ave. The birds have been roosting in the trees surrounding the residence for several years from the first week of July through the month of October. Each year, the problem has worsened to a point that there have been estimates of more than 2,000 birds roosting at one time. Bud Gates of the Granite City sanitation department sprays the chemical onto the tree branches high atop the aerial leader of the Granite City fire department. The chemical is expected to rid the area of the problem.

Area mourns Pope Paul VI

Pope Paul VI, leader of the Roman Catholic Church since 1963 is dead, the victim of a heart attack Sunday afternoon at his summer home, Castel Gandolfo, south of Rome, Italy.

Quad-Cityans and people throughout the world have joined in voicing sorrow over his death.

Father Elzeaz Gehlen feels that the death of the Pope is a "tremendous loss for the church at this time, when so many moral questions remain to be answered."

"It will be a very difficult task for his successor to follow in his footsteps," the pastor of St. Mark's Church, Venice said today.

"He was a great man who stood up and defended the teachings of the church," commented Father Edward Groesch, pastor of St. Margaret Mary Church, Granite City.

"He was not afraid to speak out on the teachings of Christ and on faith, and especially the morals of the Catholic Church."

The 262nd pontiff, the 80-year-old spiritual leader was highly respected although his 15-year span in office included a period of unusual questioning and dissent.

He is considered by members of the Catholic faith to be the direct successor of St. Peter, and his wide travels included historic sites visited by both Jesus and the apostle St. Paul.

Many Quad-Cityans attended audiences and services in which Pope Paul spoke in a variety of languages, including English. They recall him showing kindness and deep concern for the welfare of all, including the world's poor and underfed.

A successor will be chosen by the college of cardinals during a meeting at the Vatican starting about 15 days after his death. In the meantime, the church's administrative duties are vested in its secretary of state.

Speculation already has begun as to the potential new pope. Five to ten names are being mentioned by many observers, and there is no obvious favorite at this time.

Sister Stanislaus, 86, administrator at hospital, dies

Sister M. Stanislaus Guenther, 86, who served as administrator of St. Elizabeth Hospital from 1956 until 1962, died at 3:15 a.m. Friday at the hospital.

Formerly a teacher, she came to St. Elizabeth Hospital in 1950 and began working there in the business office. After 1962, she served as medical librarian at the hospital until 1973. Since then, she had often visited patients.

Throughout her career here, Sister Stanislaus developed a wide circle of friends and was noted for her smiling disposition.

She was born in Braddock, Pa., serving as a school teacher there prior to being assigned to this area. She was a member of the Sisters of Divine Providence.

Survivors include two nieces, Dorothy Guenther and Mary Merks, both of Braddock.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Veteran of family medical practice, Felicia Koch advising young doctors

Granite City physician Felicia Koch, M.D., conducted primary care rounds at St. Louis University Hospitals during the late summer.

Dr. Koch, an expert in family practice, also addressed attentive postgraduate medical students in a guest lecture on office practice.

While visiting the St. Louis U. Medical Center, Dr. Koch participated in a primary care and clinical pathological conference and toured various medical center facilities.

For contributing to the training of primary care physicians, David Perry, assistant dean for Planning and Operations, St. Louis University School of Medicine, presented Dr. Koch with a certificate at a luncheon given in her honor.

During her visit, Dr. Koch was entertained at dinner by Medical Center officials.

Attending were Melvin Nicholson, professional practice manager; Dr. William Dunn, director, Division of Ambulatory Care; Dr. Simon Horenstein, chairman, Department of Neurology; Dr. Francis Xynos, director, Division of Gynecologic Oncology; Dr. Fran Horvath, director, Physicians Assistant Program; and Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Horenstein and Mrs. Xynos.

In 1966, Dr. Koch was named the Illinois Mother of the Year. She was given a Woman of Achievement Award for the St. Louis metropolitan area in 1966 and a Feather in the Hat Award from Loyola Medical School, Chicago, in 1966.

Dr. Koch is a fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians, and is listed in Who's Who of American Women.

Physical education fully coeducational

State education evaluation for sex equity in Illinois public school recognition visits beginning in September.

Illinois Law, PA (Public Act) 79-597, has been in effect since October 1975. Guidelines for the law's implementation at the primary and secondary education level were developed last winter by the State Board of Education in consultation with the Illinois High School Association.

The guidelines have been distributed to all regional and district superintendents and school principals.

PA 79-597 is not the only sex equity-related law to which Illinois schools must conform: July 21, 1978, was the final deadline for secondary schools to comply with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 in the area of physical education and athletics.

Title IX is the federal law prohibiting discrimination by sex in educational programs that receive federal money.

After July 21, Title IX requires that all physical education classes at both elementary and secondary levels be offered coeducationally and that athletic activities be provided equitably for both girls and boys.

The State Board of Education, through its administrative arm, the Illinois Office of Education, offers a wide variety of technical assistance and resource materials to help Illinois educators in the interpretation and implementation of sex equity legislation.

For example, the state agency's sex equity staff is available to provide assistance in such areas as: skill training; resource identification and referral services; and consultation on recognition and counteraction of sex bias in instructional materials; students' needs assessment; and sex-affirmative employment.

In the past five years, nearly 400 workshops have been conducted by the office in every region of Illinois.

The Illinois Office of Education has developed a new publication which is available to educators and the public. The book, "Sex Equity in Illinois Schools: Problems, Research and Solutions," covers sex differences in reading, differences in sports involvement, differences in self-image as shown by young children relative to their gender, and many other topics.

To help meet the special needs of women in educational administration, the State Board of Education is planning a management seminar designed to provide women educators an opportunity to develop school management skills.

Participants also will have an opportunity to establish a network to facilitate their professional growth. The seminar is planned for Nov. 5-7 at Pheasant Run Lodge in St. Charles.

Bus staff preparing for long, cold winter

While most area residents are still coping with the effects of the area's typical sultry, hot days, the Big State Development Agency's maintenance division is already preparing for a bitter winter.

Executive Director Barry M. Locke said maintenance personnel have completed an inventory process and are ordering heating units and spare repair parts in preparation for cleaning and inspection of all bus heating units during September and October.

This advance preparation is expected to contribute to a more trouble-free winter for Bi-State's fleet of 966 buses, although bus heating is traditionally easier to maintain than air conditioning.

Introduction of 382 new buses into the Bi-State fleet within the past year has allowed Bi-State to retire many of the transit system's older buses, some of which had been in service as long as 25 years.

The new buses are equipped with large defroster units to eliminate windshield fogging in wet or cold weather, and an improved heating system to provide warmer, more comfortable passenger trips.

Locke credits "Manager of Maintenance" Andrew J. Jurchenko with initiating Bi-State's earliest advanced heating maintenance effort. He says this program will allow the agency's 66 million annual passengers more efficient and safer bus service this winter.

While waiting for the buses this winter, passengers will again fare better than in the past with Bi-State's 100 new passenger shelters located throughout the service area.

Illinois Royal Rangers receive national award

Royal Rangers from the Illinois District captured, for the second time, the all-around camp trophy — highest award presented at the national camporama held in Idaho this year.

The state delegation received the title for the first time at the 1974 national camp in Denver, Colo.

Fifty Royal Rangers boys and 25 leaders from Illinois departed from Tri-City Park Tabernacle on a Sunday morning for the National Royal Ranger Camporama, located at Farragut State Park in the northern panhandle area of Idaho, the section of the state wedged between the states of Washington and Montana.

The trip north was made by bus and took 38 hours, with stops made for fuel, meals and a two-hour stopover at Mount Rushmore. The group arrived on a Tuesday morning and was the first to arrive at the campground.

After being assigned to its designated area, the Illinois group proceeded to set up camp to meet the inspection team's requirements.

The area consisted of 26 tents, four dining shelters, four large cabinet kitchens, and a 30-foot archway entrance featuring the U.S. and Illinois flags.

The arch was constructed of rough logs lashed together with twine.

Also posted were specially made Illinois district banners. The two skins were inscribed, one with the ranger pledge and the other with the golden rule. The camporama officially started the next morning and the massive park looked like a tent city, with at least 75 percent of the states represented.

There were boys from Australia, Hawaii, Florida and Maine. Total registration was 2,000 boys and leaders. Activities at the camp included sports, skills, hiking, swimming, patch trading, craft demonstrations from a frontier village, and services.

Opening the morning ceremonies was guest speaker John McPherson, a full-blooded Indian chief, evangelist and chief justice of the state of Washington.

Evening devotional services were presented by Denny Duron, an ex-professional football star, now coach of Evangel College. Other key speakers were Fred "Hawkeye" Deaver, national PFC president at a frontier court, and election for the PFC national scout and assistant. Serving as master-of-ceremonies was Johnnie Barnes, national commander and founder of the Royal Rangers program.

The final day, an award presentation, was held prior to the devotional service, beginning with individual trophies to boys who won sports events.

Illinois district winners included, in the junior division, Steve Nolan of Granite City, softball accuracy second place; Matt Heikenfeld of Zion, third in volleyball; Coy Tinker of Pocatamos, second in 40-yard dash and second in softball accuracy; John Harvey of Pocatamos, third in 100-yard dash; Roddie Brown of Hartford, first in broad jump, and Tom Brag of Chicago, second in football accuracy.

Group awards, divided into three categories, were given for entrance archway, camp layout and group control.

Driver faints, auto hits pole

Mrs. Catherine McCarthy, 26, of 30 Parktowne West, sustained injuries Thursday when she suffered a temporary blackout while driving her auto and struck a utility pole in the 2900 block of West 20th Street.

Mrs. McCarthy was taken by City Ambulance to St. Elmo Hospital, where she was treated for contusions to the right elbow and had x-rays made before being released.

Two children in the vehicle also suffered injuries. Michael Parker McCarthy, 11, of 30 Parktowne West, bumped his head and had x-rays taken. Lonita McCarthy, 7, of the same address, struck her knees on the dashboard and had abrasions above the right knee. She had x-rays taken. Both youngsters were released after treatment.

3,500 tour the Cahokia mounds

Over 3,500 people swarmed over the Cahokia Mounds historic site Saturday at the second annual Rediscover Cahokia Mounds Day — a grab-bag of events.

It lasted all day and offered a variety of entertainment, from artifacts produced hundreds of years ago to demonstrations of Indian skills.

Included were archery, films of Indian lore, and hikes to the top of huge Monk's Mound for a sweeping view of the area, with St. Louis in the distance.

At times, the crowd was entertained by Indian dancing by two troupes of dancers, Frank Acardi's Kahok Dancers and Frank Joachimshaler's Cahokia Mounds Indian Dancers.

Police said they observed Rogers at Wabash and Waterman avenues on a motorcycle without license plates.

After stopping him in the 2100 block of Waterman Avenue police were informed by radio there was warrant for Rogers. He is to appear in court at 1 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 5, in Granite City.

Woodrow Mills, 58, dies

Woodrow Mills, 58, of 2816 Nameki Road, was pronounced dead at 10:20 a.m. Saturday in his home by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Siernberg.

His half-sister and her husband, Walter and Alice Dombroski, went to the home about 9:55 a.m. Saturday to do grocery shopping and clean the house for Mr. Mills. It was reported to authorities.

When he did not answer, they used their key to the house and found Mr. Mills lying on his bed. They then called police and the coroner.

Authorities said death apparently was due to natural causes. An inquiry will be held. Mr. Mills had been under a doctor's care for several years. He was born in Farmington, Mo., and lived here 56 years. Mr. Mills formerly worked as a custodian at Roderick's Restaurant in Granite City.

Mr. Mills is survived by two brothers, Earl Mills of

A tire tool and a pair of sunglasses were left near the jacked up vehicle.

Ironworkers ok new contract

A new three-year contract proposal providing a raise of $2.65 per hour over the three years of the contract period was ratified Thursday by the Bridge and Structural Ironworkers Union.

Members of the International Laborers Union remained on strike today, however. A negotiating meeting with the U.S. mediator is scheduled at 10 a.m. Wednesday, according to Wayne Barber, executive manager of the Southern Illinois Builders Association.

The Laborers Union is the only one of the major crafts unions maintaining pickets at job construction sites. Major highway projects and other construction work, including the St. Elizabeth Hospital expansion, have been shut down by the picketing.

The new ironworkers contract provides a raise of 90 cents per hour effective Aug. 1, 1979, and a raise of 90 cents an hour will become effective Aug. 1, 1980 under terms of the new pact.

During the first year of the contract, 15 cents of the 90-cent hourly increase will be applied to pensions. There will be no pension deductions for the 1979 and 1980 years.

A meeting also is scheduled Thursday with representatives of the Tri-County Carpenters Council based in East St. Louis. The Tri-County carpenters and the laborers are the only unions that have not approved new contract terms.

During ceremonies in Washington, D.C., on Thursday, the United States and Illinois Environmental Protection Agencies (USEPA and IEPA) entered into an agreement which turns over the state agency the management of federal wastewater treatment plant grants.

As a result, grant applicants will only have to deal with IEPA, rather than both state and federal officials. The agreement is effective immediately. Mike Mauzy, IEPA acting director, welcomed the full review responsibility and said there will be less duplication of efforts in obtaining grants.

Illinois water fowl hunters using 12-gauge shotguns will be required to use steel shot on all state-managed hunting areas and in 14 counties under federal regulation. Federal and state regulations were implemented last year in an effort to prevent waterfowl lead poisoning problems. Although only 12-gauge shotguns will be affected for the 1978 season, plans are to extend the regulation to other size shotguns next year.

U.S. unemployment rose to 6.2 percent in July from June's year-low of 5.7 percent. The figure in July 1977 was 6.9 percent. Jobless in Illinois rose from 5.2 percent in June to 5.9 percent in the month.

The Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission acted unanimously Thursday to require detailed records on sales of pain-killers Talwin and to limit the ways doctors can prescribe it. It is being widely abused as a heroin substitute.

Gov. James R. Thompson last week signed Senate Bill 736 to provide Illinois manufacturers with sales tax exemptions on certain equipment. The bill, effective in January 1979, provides a six-year phase-in of sales tax exemptions for purchase of new machinery and equipment for new and expanding industry.

Senate Bill 1519, which Gov. Thompson also signed last week, changes the six-day work week law to allow a worker to voluntarily work on his day off if the employer obtains an Illinois Department of Labor permit.

A recent grasshopper outbreak in Illinois is concerning scientists of the Illinois Natural History Survey. Survey specialists ask that farmers not mow roadsides in an attempt to control the pests, because those areas provide the majority of safe cover for ground-nesting wildlife over much of Illinois. Entomologist Dr. Donald E. Kuhlman said grasshoppers are beginning to inflict damage on soybeans in some areas. Where control is necessary, Kuhlman recommends that farmers contact the county extension advisor for suggestions.

The Illinois Department of Conservation's sport fishing awards program has drawn 25 entries — two which broke a state record set only last year. Only 18 entries were received for all of 1977. A contest rule change allows anglers to be recognized for all outstanding catches — not just those setting state records. Entries may be submitted by writing the Conservation Department's Fisheries Division, 100 E. Washington, Springfield 62706.

Ala carte price boosted 5 cents

The cost of plate lunches in the lunchroom programs of the Granite City School District will remain the same as last year, 50 cents in the elementary schools and 60 cents in the junior and senior high schools, but ala carte items will be increased five cents.

Board members agreed to the price increase last week after reviewing a report by O. L. Overhuler, director of the school lunch program.

He projected food cost increases for the next year of approximately $48,000, or 10 percent over last year's cost. "This is based on conversations with suppliers, and represents the greatest increase that seems possible. We hope program costs will be substantially under the $126,000 budgeted, but there still seems a need for some sort of price adjustment."

"If increased costs reached the maximum projected, with no revenue increases, we would have a loss of approximately $60,000," Overhuler added. A bid from Prairie Farms Dairy, the only one submitted to the school district, was opened at the meeting and showed a one-cent increase in milk price over last year. The board agreed to the proposal and said it does not think the increase will be added to the student cost.

Board members discussed a proposal to expand the Parent Involvement program, initially started last year at Johnson and Maryville Schools.

Although the project was termed successful, the proposed budget to expand the program would amount to $14,004, it was added. The board did not approve expansion at a cost to the district.

However, if other revenue to finance the project becomes available, the expanded program will be instituted.

Contracts to Capri Beauty Academy (formerly Joseph's) and Granite City School of Beauty Culture for cosmetology training were approved by the board.

To help alleviate a standing water problem on the drive and parking area of Parkview School, the board received permission from Bethel Evangelical Free Church to run an open drainage ditch for surface water on the property at a point where it abuts school property.

The Southwest District of the Madison County Homeowners Extension Association was given permission to use Coolidge Junior High School for a district meeting in November. Grace Baptist Church's request to use the Webster School for the church Bible school was approved.

11-day state fair to open Plan Labor Day diving and auction

"Around the World in 11 Days," the 1978 Illinois state fair, at the Springfield fairgrounds, will open Thursday with varied entertainment, agricultural racing, governmental and cultural activities. Charlie Fride, country-and-western music star, will appear at the fair grandstand at 7 and 9 p.m. Saturday, and drum and bugle corps and drill teams will compete during veterans' events on Sunday, followed by the Beach Boys at "youth day" on Monday, Aug. 14.

Bond sale in county near $4 million

Madison County residents purchased a total of $3,919,822 in Series E and H United States Savings Bonds during the first half of 1978, according to Henry D. Karandeff of Granite City, county chairman of the Illinois Savings Bonds Committee. Sales in Illinois during the same period were $208,794,804, according to Louis J. Negri, state director of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division. This is $5,255,354 more than state sales in the first half of 1977 and represents 48.9 percent of the state goal of $549,000,000.

The Bubblemasters Scuba Diving Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Tri-City Area YMCA, according to Dee Adams, president.

Adams said all divers and prospective divers in the area are invited to join members at the meeting and learn about future programs.

Topping the list of items to be discussed tomorrow night is the Labor Day weekend dive at Pontiac Boat Dock, Bull Shoals Lake, which includes the traditional auction to raise funds for Christmas baskets for needy families.

The club is seeking such items as books, lamps, toys, appliances, games and "fun" objects to be auctioned at the dive, Adams said. Several Bubblemasters attended a diving meet at Mutton Creek on Stockton Lake during the past weekend. The event was sponsored by the Fin and Feather Missouri-Kansas Divers.

Costoff bans asking employees for gifts

Madison County Democratic chairman has advised officeholders and department heads in the Madison County government that "there shall be no solicitation or assessment of funds from county or state employees on behalf of the Madison County Democratic Committee by officeholders or department heads."

"Should an individual desire to make a contribution to the Democratic Party, they may do so by forwarding such contribution on a voluntary basis direct to the Madison County Democratic Committee," the Madison alderman was elected to the party's top county post this spring.

'Quarter day' Friday; to issue IDs Thursday

The final "quarter day" of the 1978 summer season will take place Friday, Aug. 11, at Wilson Park swimming pool. George Wilkins, III, pool manager, said children and adults with park district identification cards may swim for 25 cents Friday between the hours of 1 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Those without park IDs are required to pay the regular fee. Park ID cards will be issued from 10 a.m. to noon Thursday, Aug. 10, at the Wilson Park office.

The plasticized cards, costing $1 each, are available to anyone residing within Granite City Park District boundaries. They remain in effect for one year. Persons wishing to obtain a card must show proof of residency, such as a receipted utility bill, at the time of issuance.

Friday's "quarter day" will mark the fourth of the current season and the event is proving popular, Wilkins said. This is the first year that the special price swim day has been offered.

If repair or replacement becomes necessary, a toll-free call to Guaranteed Homes will bring a local repairman. The homeowner will need to pay only a deductible charge. Holzinger has held a meeting in Highland to familiarize and train his salespeople and brokers from all offices in successful use of the Guaranteed Homes program for their customers.

Order lab test for cannabis

At 11:10 p.m. Saturday, Granite City police stopped a pickup truck at Benton and Troy avenues and confiscated a tin box filled with a substance believed to be cannabis. Authorities said the truck had a strong odor of what police believed to be from cannabis smoke. The two young men in the truck were released pending a laboratory verification of the substance in the tin box.

A similar incident took place at 1:26 a.m. Sunday when police saw two cars parked in the drive of a service station at St. Clair Avenue and Nameoki Road.

The four youths, three 18 and one 16, were observed drinking beer when police investigated. Several bags of a substance believed to be cannabis were taken by authorities along with a wood pipe bowl. The four were released pending a lab check of the substance.

Teacher center approved

Harold E. Briggs, Madison County regional superintendent of schools, has received verbal notice that the Madison County Teacher Center proposal has been approved by the U.S. Office of Health, Education and Welfare.

The federally-funded proposal is written in the amount of $77,819, with his office serving as fiscal agent. A policy board of 22 members representing Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and 15 school districts of Madison County has Barbara J. Thielemann, a teacher in the Roxana district, serving as chairman.

"Out of 537 proposals submitted, 60 were approved for the entire United States, including two in Illinois. Ours is one of these two," Supt. Briggs noted.

"The Madison County Teacher Center will develop four varied approaches to teacher needs.

"The first will be a responsive professional development center providing short-term assessed needs of the teachers.

"The resources for this center will come from existing programs, such as Title IV-C validated projects, university personnel, and exceptional teachers from within and outside the area.

"A second approach will provide for sharing existing resources more effectively, through increased coordination and communication.

"A third component will set up at least three materials development centers throughout the county where teachers can develop and share instructional aids.

"The final facet will be a teacher forum, which will seek persons who can infuse new ideas and stimulate the thoughts of teachers.

"These four components, each focusing on a different level of concern, will operate in a variety of sites throughout the area. The locations will evolve out of need, rather than all needs coming to one location.

"One of the first functions of the Madison County Teacher Center Policy Board will be the selection of a teacher center director."

The proposal lists minimal qualifications that include:

1. Current classroom teaching experience.
2. Five years' teaching experience.

3. Evidence of innovativeness in curriculum and instructional development.

4. Evidence of personal professional growth.

5. Evidence of oral and written communication ability.

6. Evidence of support from educational personnel.

7. Evidence of administrative and managerial competence.

The office location of the director is yet to be determined, as well as the starting date.

Applications are available in the Office of the Regional Superintendent of Schools, 201 Hillside Ave., Edwardsville 62025.

Non-certified workers must live in district, Madison board rules

The Madison Board of Education at a meeting Thursday evening in the board office reaffirmed a policy of hiring only people living in the district for non-certificated jobs, such as cooks, aides and custodial staff.

The board further reaffirmed a policy that any non-certificated person working for the district be terminated upon moving outside the boundaries of the Madison school district.

It is also the board's policy that any new administrators or those filling new administrative positions must reside within the district.

Warren Smith, 204 Sken St., Madison, was hired as a custodian.

The board tabled a request by a custodial employee to change school buildings.

An approval letter from the Illinois Office of Education gave the Madison Board authority to extend multiple shift attendance at Madison Junior High School for the seventh year, 1978-79.

This will be the last year for the multiple shift attendance, with the new middle school now under construction expected to be finished and in use for the 1979-80 school year.

A letter from Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, discussed students who are in non-compliance with immunization and physical examination requirements, as prescribed in the State School Code. Cronin said the local board has the authority to exclude such students from school.

Prior to student exclusion, parents or guardians will be notified that the child is not in compliance, told of the consequences of non-compliance, and given a reasonable period to comply.

The board awarded burner conversion from oil to gas at Harris and Blair Schools to American Boiler Services, Inc., of Fenton, Mo.

The burner conversion will cost $2,686 and the Blair School cost will be $2,615.

The work is expected to be completed before Aug. 23, when school will resume.

President Sam Dymas appointed Paul Bargiel and Richard Zeisel, board members, to work with him on obtaining a new football scoreboard for Madison High School.

Stack backs tax ceiling

Thirty-nine Republican leaders and candidates, including the 12 GOP members of the Illinois Congressional delegation, announced their support Friday for the "Thompson proposition."

Included was Daniel J. Stack, Highland, running for Congress in the 23rd District.

The Illinois Republican members of the U.S. House of Representatives unanimously joined their congressional colleague, Senator Charles H. Percy, who earlier was named a co-chairman for the drive to get the proposition on the Nov. 7 ballot.

Those named co-chairmen Friday also join a list of more than 200 co-chairmen that include the GOP candidates for state offices, members of the Illinois House and Senate, GOP candidates for those offices and many Illinois mayors.

Gov. James R. Thompson said he is pleased with the increasing support the proposition is receiving. It would ask Illinois voters if they favor placing ceilings on taxes and spending by the state, units of local government and school districts.

19¢ pay hike at GC Steel

Granite City Steel has put into effect another cost-of-living pay increase for most of its employees, effective Aug. 1.

Hourly employees receive an upward cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) of 19 cents an hour, bringing the total COLA to 70 cents an hour, an amount that was rolled into base rates as of Aug. 1.

On the same date, $121 a month was rolled into base salaries of eligible salary-paid employees. This represents an additional $32.77 a month on top of the previous COLA of $86.23 a month as the cost-of-living pay adjustment.

The latest COLA is based on the government's Consumer Price Index as of June 1978. No further adjustment will be made until Nov. 1.

Choose Head Start director

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission on Friday announced the appointment of Gene Morelli as director of its new full-year Head Start program.

An EOC employee for the past five years, Morelli holds a bachelor's degree and state teacher's certificate from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. He is currently working toward a master's degree in education.

Having previously started and directed the Lovejoy Day Care Center in Alton, Morelli recently opened the Roba's Next Day Care Center in Meadowbrook.

In addition, he has lectured at numerous child care workshops. He resides in Godfrey with his wife and son. His wife, Rosemarie, is a teacher at Marquette High School in Alton.

The new Head Start program will provide comprehensive health, educational, nutritional, social and other services to preschool children of economically disadvantaged families in five areas of Madison County: Granite City, Venice-Madison, Collinsville-Edwardsville, Alton, and Bethalto.

Program eligibility is normally limited to low-income families, except in cases of children with specific problems or disabilities.

Program registration will begin in late August.

Linda Todoroff, instructor of the workshop, said

Director of the RAP Room at SIUE, she will be assisted in the instruction by Bob Meloy and Helen Meloy. Mrs. Meloy is assistant director of the RAP Room (692-3764).

Cost of the workshop is $15. This includes lunch and beverages.

SIUE students with identification will receive a $5 student discount upon payment at the door.

Advance registration is required.

the Collinsville city limits.

Two persons were injured, one seriously, by the blast. Wilburn D. Alford, 37, of Troy, who was waiting at the intersection in his pickup truck for the four-engine train to pass, was severely burned. His truck was badly damaged.

Alford was taken to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital at Maryville and later was reported in serious condition at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Gina Pendleton, 17, who lives on Keebler Street, also was stopped at the intersection in her car. She was also treated at the Maryville Hospital and released. Both drivers were alone in their vehicles.

Eric Jones, director of Emergency Services for Illinois, said there apparently was a rupture in the tank car caused by the derailment "and a gas cloud built up before the explosion happened." Jones coordinated state, local and Terminal railroad disaster efforts.

Authorities began evacuation efforts immediately after the explosion and a center for evacuees was set up by the Red Cross at the Collinsville Veterans of Foreign Wars hall. Madison County deputies said some of the 50 to 60 families in the area refused to move, but most of them agreed to leave their homes during the emergency.

A "tag system" was initiated to permit some residents to return to their homes to remove clothing and valuables, although they did so at their own risk, authorities said.

Mrs. Edward Rogers, whose home is about 500 yards from where the explosion occurred said she was awakened by the explosion. "The house shook and the sky was like day only red," she said.

Her home apparently was not damaged and no damage was reported to other homes in the vicinity.

Collinsville firemen were assisted by departments from Troy, Maryville and Long Lake. Firemen from the Long Lake Department assigned one truck and six firemen to four 6-hour shifts to assist in fighting the fire.

David E. Visney, a vice president of the Illinois Terminal Railroad, said the cause of the derailment has not been determined. He said more can be determined after the cars are removed and wreckage cooled. U.S. Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) visited the site where he was told by Arthur Proffock, of Hatcher Emergency Services, a consulting firm called to advise at the scene, that the incident is the latest example of the dangers of moving explosive material.

The U.S. General Accounting office two weeks ago warned that railroad cars, tank trucks and storage tanks filled with liquefied gas are so vulnerable to explosion that they should be kept out of densely populated areas.

In addition to his role as a busy businessman, Harris is in a two-year term as president of the St. Louis Sports Council.

He devotes much time to promoting sports clinics, marksmanship and firearms handling training, and other programs to make leisure activities safe and enjoyable for citizens.

His memberships here have included the Associated Retailers, Chamber of Commerce and Downtown Granite City.

The University of Illinois graduate is a member of the National Buying Syndicate, a group of 450 stores. He regards the affiliation as providing "the best of both worlds," independent control of his store to maximum customer services, combined with volume purchasing advantages.

Planning for the local store is geared to semi-annual programs, mapped out in conjunction with two-yearly visits to Texas manufacturers and wholesalers.

Frequently in the news, Harris received an award for "outstanding service to the retail industry" Dec. 11 from "Outdoors Today" at a banquet attended by 100 persons at Augustine's, Belleville.

Lucco files

State Rep. Joe E. Lucco, who lost by a small margin in the spring Democratic primary, filed petitions at Springfield last week to run on a third-party ticket, Citizens for Lucco.

Democratic nominees are Rep. Jim McPike and former Rep. Sam Wolf. Republican candidates are Rep. Everett Steel and Mrs. Janet Wilson.

Three are to be elected Nov. 7. Lucco said he will begin campaigning immediately. There has been speculation that he might succeed in edging Rep. Steel or Wolf, unless there is a voter backlash against Lucco for switching from the Democratic party to independent status.

Ambulance boundaries are studied

Despite a new ruling that is complicating the collection of funds for Granite City municipal ambulance calls, studies are being made of whether present boundaries can be extended by the city service or by private ambulance firms.

As disclosed by the Press-Record on Thursday, there is concern by some that the absence of immediate ambulance service may have been a factor in the death of an Eagle Park Acres woman in recent weeks.

Mrs. Alice Booker suffered a heart attack early Monday, July 17, and was dead when an ambulance arrived at her home from an East St. Louis funeral home.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

YOUNG WOMAN INJURED Hope Jones, 19, of 304 McCambridge Ave., Madison, was injured in an auto accident and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week for injuries to her right shoulder and back. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Probation in $100,000 TV and radio theft case

Three of the defendants in an alleged $100,000 theft case in which items were stolen last year from Bert's Audio-TV Showroom in Granite City have been granted probation by Circuit Judge Howard White of Jersey County after pleading guilty to felony counts of theft.

Two other defendants, including a Madison County sheriff's deputy, have yet to go on trial.

Robert M. Gavan, 31, Godfrey, pleaded guilty to felony theft June 13, 1977, and was given two years of probation. Three other felony counts of theft were dismissed.

Mark J. McManis, 20, Alton, pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor theft count from Aug. 1, 1977, theft from Bert's store and two other felony counts from June 1977 thefts were dismissed. He received one year of probation.

Gary Rainey, 20, Alton, pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor theft Aug. 1, 1977, and was given a year's probation by Judge White. A felony count of theft from June 21, 1977, was dismissed.

Judge White was brought into the case after the possible involvement of Madison County Sheriff's Deputy Larry Bull came to light.

Bull, a detective, was tried in February on a theft charge for allegedly purchasing a stolen color television set taken from Bert's.

The jury in that trial became deadlocked after about seven hours of deliberation and Circuit Judge A. L. Pezman of Calhoun County, who had been assigned to try the case, declared a mistrial.

Special prosecutor John Dale Stobbs, who was appointed by the Madison County chief judge after the state's attorney's staff withdrew from the case, continued his investigation after the mistrial. But he withdrew in March, saying he did not want the prosecution of Bull to become his "life's work."

The chief judge then asked the Illinois attorney general to appoint an assistant as a prosecutor. Dan McKay of that office was appointed in May and negotiated the pleas with Gavan, McManis and Rainey.

Another defendant, E. C. Valley, Alton, pleaded guilty to theft in November 1977 while Stobbs was handling the case, and was sentenced by Judge Pezman to serve two years of probation and pay a $500 fine.

McKay said the retrial of Bull is expected to begin later this month and prosecution of Kenneth Stover, 20, Alton, is yet to be arranged.

Bull also is to be tried in the future on an arson charge unrelated to the Bert's TV case.

It is alleged that Stover, an assistant manager for Bert's at that time, opened the Granite City store after hours for friends who removed TV sets, radios, CB radios and component stereo equipment on several occasions.

McKay, contacted by the Press-Record, said he did not wish to discuss the probation sentences given Gavan, McManis and Rainey. "I do not feel it proper to comment on a pending case," he said.

Appropriate education being provided for the handicapped

A new compliance review unit to monitor implementation of the Education For All Handicapped Children Act (PL 94-142) has been created by the State Board of Education.

The unit, located within the Illinois Office of Education, will provide assistance to local school districts in meeting requirements of the new special education law.

"The intention is to assist districts in complying with state and federal mandates for the education of exceptional children," said State Superintendent Joseph Cronin.

"We plan to work in a cooperative manner with districts to identify where there are problems, and to assist districts in finding resources to help bring them into compliance."

Public Law 94-142, passed by Congress in 1975, requires school districts to provide a "free, appropriate, public education" for all handicapped children between the ages of three and 18 by September 1978 and between three and 21 by 1980.

Handicapped students, as defined in the law, include mentally retarded, hard of hearing, deaf, visually handicapped, other health impaired and speech impaired children. Also included are those who are seriously emotionally disturbed, or children with specific learning disabilities who require special education and related services.

The law provides that states set up procedures to assure that the handicapped are educated in the "least restrictive environment"—that is, in classes that would place them in the most normal atmosphere possible.

In most cases, the public school represents the most normal environment. However, if a child cannot adequately be served in a public school, then a private school or institution that can serve him will be considered less restrictive.

The law also requires that the education be free—at no cost to parents or guardians—and appropriate to each child's special needs.

The student is guaranteed the right to an individual education plan, which is developed and revised yearly. Parents must be given the opportunity to examine all records regarding the child's evaluation and placement.

The compliance review unit will be working in conjunction with several IOE departments—including recognition and supervision, evaluation, and budget and finance—in reviewing the policies and procedures of districts to see that they meet the provisions of

New delayed enlistments

The Air Force has announced a new 12-month delayed enlistment program, according to Lieutenant Colonel William Paquin, St. Louis Recruiting Squadron commander.

"The program is designed for current high school seniors," the colonel said.

"It gives young men and women, interested in an Air Force enlistment, the chance to take advantage of Air Force opportunities earlier in the school year."

The program provides for a delay of up to 12 months between enlistment in the Air Force and the actual start of active duty. Interested persons are contacting: SSGT. Dennis E. Daigle, 600 N. Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City 62040 (878-5225).

Most working married women in part-time but steady jobs

Three out of five employed married women have steady jobs that require less than 35 hours a week, according to a new study prepared for the Labor Department.

The study, "Women and Part-Time Work," focuses on the relationship of married women to part-time work—employment with regular hours of less than 35 per week.

It examines a group of 10,000 women and the extent to which they worked part-time over six-year period; various combinations of part-time and full-time work and their significance; and the effect part-time work has on their wages and unemployment experience.

The group studied consisted of married women between 18 and 49 living with their husbands.

Findings include:

- During the six years of the study, 60 percent of the mature women and 54 percent of the young women were, at some point, in part-time jobs. The frequency was much less for the young (10 percent of the women) than for the mature (21 percent).

— The growth of part-time employment for married women with their husbands present does not appear to contribute to the higher unemployment rate of women.

— Part-time workers became unemployed less often than full-time workers. Also, the duration of a spell of unemployment was shorter for a part-time worker.

— For both the young and mature, child-care responsibilities were important determinants of part-time work. More children in the family and the presence of a preschooler in the home were among the major factors.

For mature women, poor health was an important reason for limiting work to part-time, and being black was significant factor in reducing the probability of part-time work.

— When work experience after the birth of the first child and before the current job was largely of a part-time nature, it reduced the current level of earnings.

In fact, the wage of the current job, said the study, emphasized part-time work during this interval of her life was not improved compared with a woman who did not have outside employment during the interval.

Sources for the study were the National Longitudinal Surveys of 1967-1972 for mature women (30-44 years of age in 1967) and the same surveys of 1968-1973 for young women (18-24 years of age in 1967).

The study, "Women and Part-Time Work," was done by the department's Employment and Training Administration by Ethel B. Jones and James E. Long of Auburn University's School of Business.

Grant for home health care course

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is the recipient of a grant totaling $48,486 for the continuation of a program entitled "Homemaker—Home Health Care Training."

Rosena Lutz, home economist in special programs at the university, is director of the project. The program has been on the SIUE campus three years.

According to Mrs. Lutz, the course is designed for mature women who are willing to work with families or individuals in the home, performing household and light nursing care.

The course will be offered on the local campus Oct. 17, Jan. 9 and April 3. Tuition is free, and registration should be accomplished at least two weeks ahead of the starting date.

The program requires 120 hours of participation, including 66 hours in the classroom, 24 hours of skills development under the supervision of a registered nurse, 20 hours of practicum, and 10 hours of observation at a senior citizen retirement center of shelter care home.

Persons interested in enrolling in the program may contact Mrs. Lutz at 682-2420 or 377-4265, Jim Mueller of the Children and Family Services Office at 878-9300, or Lois Meisner of the Visiting Nurses Association at 465-2539.

Accident toll increasing as skateboard popularity rises

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser, Home Economics
Skateboarding is one of the most popular recreational activities of the decade. Although the majority of skateboarders are between 10 and 17 years old, kids of all ages and some adults are "sidewalk surfing," too.

But, skateboarding is not always fun. Serious skateboard accidents are increasing dramatically. Last year, 104,000 persons received hospital emergency room treatment for injuries associated with skateboards.

How can a simple toy like a skateboard be so dangerous? Fatal accidents occur when a victim either falls from the skateboard or strikes his head, or is struck by an automobile while skateboarding.

One-third of all skateboard accidents resulted in leg, arm and other body fractures. Many victims have been skating for less than one week. The number of skateboard injuries would be greatly reduced if skateboards were used in places specifically intended for skateboarding — not on public streets and sidewalks. Some skaters stop abruptly in front of pedestrians or skate across their path.

Structural problems and poor skateboarding surfaces cause many other accidents. Improperly modified and repaired boards or excessively wobbly boards tip over easily, injuring the rider. Although too much wobble causes instability, skateboards need to wobble some to maneuver corners.

Cracked or uneven cement sidewalks, rocks, tree branches and other debris cause tripping and skidding. Follow these tips to prevent skateboard accidents: —Learn to perform basic skateboard maneuvers before attempting more complicated or trick moves. —Keep equipment in good repair.

Guidelines deadly force

The American Law Enforcement Officers Association and the National Association of Chiefs of Police are distributing to every police and sheriff department a recommended Guideline for the Use of Deadly Force.

force, and officers will shoot to kill in such cases. Armed felons leave no choice to police in such cases.

Included are 17,000 municipal departments, 3,000 county sheriffs and 23,000 private security managers who may employ armed special officers.

Chief Ferguson has also called upon the states to enact stringent training requirements for special officers.

"I have noted that for every municipal or county officer, we have ten private guards, often armed."

"The pages of newspapers are splattered with the blood of victims of reckless use of firearms by either untrained guards or those who lack sufficient training."

Chief Robert Ferguson, national president, said the guidelines on use of deadly force came as a result of a survey conducted by the ALBOA to a series of incidents in which firearms have been discharged resulting in accidental deaths or, in some cases, murder indictments and civil law suits.

"Basically," he said, "we are spelling out to both the officer and the community the burden and responsibility placed on law enforcement officers who are armed is often in a stress situation."

"The moment anyone fires a single round, that person becomes the state's judge, prosecutor, jury and, often, the executioner."

"I want to see the same standards apply in all states as they do for regular police officers, and urge firms to carefully review the need for armed guards against the need for security personnel who are untrained in crime-resistance situations."

"The law itself is tolerant of death's force whenever a person is involved in the commission of a felony."

The American Law Enforcement Officers Association is comprised of law enforcement officers from all ranks and departments in the United States.

It has been joined in this program by the National Association of Chiefs of Police (NACOP), headquartered in Washington, D.C. (2000 F. St., N.W.).

American consumers are becoming more cautious in the face of fast-rising prices for such essentials as groceries and other necessities. Recent research shows more people are spending less and saving more toward their future purchasing power.

Retail sales during the first half of the year were up about 7 percent nationwide, but inflation accounted for about 6 percent of the increase. However, the percentage of total income put into savings by consumers has been running close to 6 percent, up from 4.7 percent savings rate in the first six months of last year.

As prices escalate and families experience an erosion of real income, they tend to reduce spending and increase savings. Savings... as a means of assuring their future ability to buy everyday necessities and meet fixed financial commitments.

If you want to learn more about saving for the future, ask any of our officers. We advise you about savings... you can BANK on it!

LOOK OUT! Mercer's Jeff Scarborough (left) ducks for cover as he slides back safely into first base yesterday. He was nearly caught off base by Highland-Pierron pitcher Kevin Pesko in the second game of Mercer's important doubleheader sweep in Illinois Inter-

City League action at Wilson Park in Granite City. Mercer won by scores of 5-3 and 7-7 after splitting with the same team Friday night. The two victories gave Mercer the Red Division championship by one-half game over Highland-Pierron.

Mercer takes two of three from Highland-Pierron for crown

GRANITE CITY — After splitting with Highland-Pierron Friday at Edwardsville's Hoppe Field, Mercers took both ends of an Illinois Inter-City League doubleheader here yesterday to wrest the lead from the visitors on the final day of the regular season.

Mercers won 9-0 and lost 9-0 Friday against Highland-Pierron in a make-up of last week's scheduled doubleheader which was postponed because of Mercers' participation in the NBC State Tournament.

The Friday split gave Highland-Pierron a game-and-a-half lead over second-place Mercers going into yesterday's doubleheader at Wilson Park. But Mercers came away with victories of 5-3 and 7-7 to claim the championship of the Red Division.

Mercers finished the regular season one-half game ahead of Highland-Pierron and will face the second place finisher from the Blue Division, Mitchell, in a doubleheader at Wilson Park next Sunday, Aug. 13 beginning at 1 p.m. in a best two-out-of-three playoff. Should it be necessary, a single nine-inning game will be played Sunday, Aug. 19 to determine the winner.

In the other Inter-City playoff series, Music Room of East Alton, the winner of the Blue Division, will face Highland-Pierron in a similar setup. Yesterday against Highland-Pierron, Mercers trailed 3-1 going into the bottom of the sixth inning of the first game. But that situation soon changed.

Dave Schaake walked followed by a John Urban RBI double. Second baseman Bob Hughes was intentionally walked. Bill Lee made Highland-Pierron sorry it had walked Hughes to get to him ... he blasted a three-run homer allowing the winning runs to cross the plate. Highland-Pierron had just finished scoring two runs of its own in the top of the seventh to take the lead.

The victory in the first game moved Mercer within one-half game of Highland-Pierron and set the stage for the final game of the doubleheader ... and the regular season.

After spotting Highland-Pierron a run in the top of the first inning, Mercer came roaring back with five runs in the bottom of the frame.

Dave Schaake again started off the big inning with a walk. Lee then received a walk, which drove in Schaake. Then Jeff Scarborough was walked, driving in Urban with the second run of the inning for Mercer.

Ken Schaake followed that with a two-run double followed by a one-run two-bagger by John Lakin.

Highland however came back with a run in the second inning and five in the fifth to take a 7-6 lead and make Mercer's dream of grabbing the title on the last day of the season look remote.

Mercer had scored a single run in the fourth on a walk to Eider Wardfield, a Highland-Pierron error and a double by John Urban.

But in the bottom of the fifth, Mercer came through with two runs to wrest the lead and the championship of the Division away from Highland-Pierron. Jack Scarborough reached base leading off with a fielder's choice. That was followed by a single by Dave Schaake and an RBI single by Urban.

Then Hughes, the man Highland-Pierron had walked in the first game, came through with the game-winning hit when he singled driving in Schaake.

The winning pitcher for Mercer in the first game was Stan Osterberg. He went the distance on the mound. The winner in the second game was Ted Brat, who had come on in relief of Jerome Deml in the fifth inning.

THOMAS, EAST ALTON 3 — A four-run fifth inning gave Thomas all the runs it needed to defeat East Alton yesterday at East Alton's Van Fraeter Park.

East Alton had taken a 2-1 lead in the second inning and it stayed that way until the fifth. Marc Waters started the Thomas rally off with a walk. He was bunted over to second by a single by Dan Bixler. Bill Jakich then reached base on an error by East Alton which also allowed Fossick and Bixler to score.

THOMAS, EAST ALTON 7 (Eight Innings) — Thomas scored six runs to East Alton's four in the first extra inning of the second game to break open a 3-2 tie and end the season on a winning note. Mike Juravich drove in two runs for Thomas in that six-run eighth inning. Also getting RBIs were Jay Morgan, Dan Cooke and Dan Bixler.

MARYVILLE 4, WOOD RIVER 3 — Maryville scored four times in the first inning and managed to hold onto the lead the rest of the way to gain the victory yesterday at Wood River.

Wood River scored twice in the third inning and once in the fourth but couldn't catch Maryville.

It was only the second victory in 15 games for Maryville.

WOOD RIVER 8, MARYVILLE 2 — Things returned to normal in the second game. Wood River scored two runs in the second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings compared to Maryville's one in the sixth and one in the seventh and walked away the victor in its final game of the Inter-City League season.

Mark Tyler went two-for-three and had two RBIs for Wood River.

BAC's basketball roster has taken on a certain 'all-star look' about it

BELLEVEILLE — Belleville Area College's cage coach, Bill Franey, has increased his team's chances for a national title tremendously last week with the addition of several ranked players to the squad.

Franey pulled his greatest coup with the signing of Kevin Stallings, the third ranked player in the state and the St. Louis area prep player of the year. Stallings, a 6-5 guard from Collinsville, was an all-state selection in 1977 and 1978 and All-American in 1978 during his senior year. He had signed a letter of intent with Minnesota, but decided that he preferred to stay in his home territory for another year or two.

Joining Stallings on the Dutchman team will be his old teammate, Joe Oniola, a 6-2 guard from Collinsville. Oniola was All-State during his senior year and played at Southern Illinois-Carbondale in 1978.

Bill Stork, a 6-7 forward from Hazelwood West, who played last year at Northeast Missouri State, has joined Franey on the BAC squad. (Franey was assistant coach at Northeast last year.) Stork broke his wrist just before the first game last year, but says that it has healed well and that he is looking forward to a conference-winning season at Belleville.

Keith Lewis, a 6-5 forward from East St. Louis, who averaged 15 points a game last year and was named to the Associated Press All-State team, rounded out Franey's roster. Lewis signed with the team on August 1.

Other BAC team members are Belleville Althoff's Steve Hanger, 6-foot guard; Rick Serkin, 6-4 forward; Don Padgett, 6-7 center; Ron

Padgett, 6-6 forward, and Jim

Grin, 6-2 guard. The Belleville Dutchmen play in the Midwest Junior College Athletic Conference. Bob Klube, Athletic Director for the school said, "We'll be competitive for the conference crown, realistically, for the first time. I'm confident that we may also have a shot for the regional and national play-offs."

Returning lettermen are Rick Klingelhoefer, 6-2 guard from Mascoutah; Cole Gaebe, 6-4 forward from Okawville; John Krampfer, 6-1 guard from Fresburg; and Andy Kasabaum, 5-10 fuard from Belleville East.

When Lewis signed Tuesday, Franey said, "This will give us the one more quick forward we need to fill our roster. I believe Keith is the final recruit we need. We should have a fantastic season with these guys."

The National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) National Finals are held in Hutchinson, Kansas each year.

Kevin Stallings summed up the feelings of the men on the team when he said, "We plan to go to Hutchinson—and we plan to win when we get there."

Equipment handouts, too

MADISON — Madison High School soccer coach Gene Briggs has announced the dates of the team's physicals, first practice and first regular season game.

Any Madison High School

boys wishing to try out for the varsity soccer team should report anytime during the day to the high school to Nina Dittman, school nurse for physicals.

The first day of practice for the Trojan soccer squad will be Monday, Aug. 21 at 10 a.m. at the soccer field immediately behind the school.

The first game of the 1978 season will be Tuesday, Sept. 12 at home against Lutheran Southwest beginning at 4 p.m.

MAKING A DIFFICULT SAVE — Janet Scannell, 51 Villa Drive, Granite City, attempts to stop the ball during a field hockey clinic conducted at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville last week. Micky Scannell is a student at Granite City High School South and is the goalie for the school's team.

GC Sports Club finishes fifth — Yesterday, Victory & Voloski defeated Depot No. 2 8-5 to drop them (Depot) into the loser's bracket. Then the hopes of a second state championship was dashed. V&V dropped two straight games but had advanced far enough in winner's bracket play to finish third.

Nelson's Trucking, the eventual state champion, defeated V&V 13-4 to drop them into loser's bracket action against the same team they had eliminated from the double-elimination affair.

Another Granite City team, Buck's Blues (formerly the Barrel Restaurant) was eliminated in two straight games Saturday. It fell to Depot No. 2 from Troy and lost to the Alton Athletic Club.

Nelson Trucking from Champaign won the state championship, defeating Depot No. 2 7-5 in last night's championship game.

Saturday, Victory & Voloski took two straight games and won hopeful of capturing its second straight state title. It defeated Peoria No. 1 18-3 in five innings and beat Galesburg 17-10 to advance to yesterday's winner's bracket play.

MACOMB — Victory & Voloski

Madison, Illinois, third and the Granite City Sports Club took fifth place here yesterday on the final day of competition in the American Softball Association (ASA) State Championship Tournament. There were two other Quad-Cities teams involved in the weekend action.

Granite City Athletic Club, coming out of the loser's bracket Friday night, defeated the Atwood Sticks 17-2 but fell to the Alton Athletic Club 16-10 Saturday morning and was eliminated from the double-elimination affair.

Another Granite City team, Buck's Blues (formerly the Barrel Restaurant) was eliminated in two straight games Saturday. It fell to Depot No. 2 from Troy and lost to the Alton Athletic Club.

Nelson Trucking from Champaign won the state championship, defeating Depot No. 2 7-5 in last night's championship game.

Saturday, Victory & Voloski took two straight games and won hopeful of capturing its second straight state title. It defeated Peoria No. 1 18-3 in five innings and beat Galesburg 17-10 to advance to yesterday's winner's bracket play.

Nelson's Trucking, the eventual state champion, defeated V&V 13-4 to drop them into loser's bracket action against the same team they had beaten earlier, Depot No. 2. But the outcome was different this time. Depot No. 2 walked away with a 12-4 victory.

The Granite City Sports Club, also coming out of the winner's bracket, came through with a tough 15-9 victory over Dutch Summers of Olney in the first game Saturday morning. GCSC at one time trailed in the game.

GCSC was handed its first loss of the tournament Saturday night when it fell to Nelson's Trucking 12-5 to drop it into the loser's bracket.

In Sunday's loser's bracket games, GCSC came through with two victories before failing to Depot No. 2.

'Sure I can dance'—and the rest is history

Q. Could you please tell me how John Travolta got the part in the movie "Saturday Night Fever"? — J.A.

A. John Travolta has been the hottest personality in Hollywood since "Welcome Back, Kotter" first appeared on television several seasons ago. His performance in "The Boy in the Plastic Bubble" demonstrated that he could act in serious roles as well as comedy ones. Producers of "Saturday Night Fever" felt Travolta was ideal for the role of Tony if only he could dance. They set up a screen test, where Travolta showed without a doubt not only his acting talents but his dancing ability, too.

Singer PAT BOONE was overheard saying backstage at the Sahara Hotel where he recently appeared, "I think back to the time ELVIS and I started out together, when he represented rebellion and I conformity, and how the things I represented became passé after a while."
"But now, well, Elvis is gone, and so is the era of rebellion. People are anxious for sense of community and the Boones serve as a reassurance that the family has survived that old traditions still exist."

And the new Travolta will be Cassidy

Now that JOHN TRAVOLTA'S $1 million three-picture deal with producer ROBERT STIGWOOD has been completed, the Stigwood organization already has selected the new Travolta. The winner is teen idol, SHAWN CASSIDY, who reportedly will get $2 million for a three-picture deal. Friends say Cassidy is unhappy since "Saturday Night Fever" made $100 million. John feels he's entitled to more since he slaved away on two other films, "Grease" and soon to be released, "Moment By Moment."

Repair vinyl items on boats

If your boat has seen a number of seasons of service, your vinyl cushions, covers and other items could stand sprucing up.

If the surface is merely dirty, washing with ordinary soap and water followed by rinsing and wiping will do the job well and safely.

Visit automotive stores and look for vinyl upholstery cleaning products if your cleaning problem does not respond to soap and water.

Small punctures can often be repaired just about invisibly. It's done with repair kits made up for the purpose.

A backing piece is poked under the rip and the tear is covered with a color-matched liquid.

A bit of material having a similar grain is pressed onto this and heat applied to cure the liquid, leaving it with a pattern almost or even identical to that of the surrounding area.

Vinyl objects that have suffered weather exposure can usually be brightened up with vinyl paint.

Some are brushed on, some are applied with an aerosol container.

Look for these products in marine, automotive, hardware and upholstery shops.

Holes made by stitching needles in vinyl don't always close up like holes in woven fabrics.

Marine stores sell a liquid that can be used to seal the needle punctures and yet not be conspicuous.

Cheryl Lynn Setzer and David Gregory are wed

MR. AND MRS. DAVID GREGORY. They were married in a garden ceremony conducted at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Setzer, 1919 Lynn Ave. The bride is the former Cheryl Lynn Setzer.

Miss Cheryl Lynn Setzer and David Lee Gregory were united in marriage in a garden ceremony performed by the Rev. Dale Edwards on July 22, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Setzer, 1919 Lynn Ave.

The couple repeated their vows in a double ring service at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, standing within an arch of various color summer flowers. Preceding the ceremony a recording of "Three Times A Lady" was played.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stivert of Alhambra.

The former Miss Setzer wore a Victorian style lace over tulle long gown featuring a sheer dotted swiss oval yoke, edged with a lace ruffle, and elbow length lace sleeves.

From the natural waistline her full lace skirt cascaded to the floor and was encircled with a matching lace ruffle. She wore a band of pink and blue carnations in her hair and held a bouquet of similar blossoms intermingled with baby's breath.

Mrs. Pam Gregory, a sister-in-law of the groom, served as matron of honor. She chose a blue street length dress and she held a bouquet of pink and blue carnations, with baby's breath.

The groom chose his brother, Bill Gregory, as best man. A reception followed the ceremony on the lawn of the Setzer residence.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School South. The former Miss Setzer is employed at the Humpty Dumpty Nursery, and her husband works at Midwest Stone.

They are residing in Madison now after a wedding trip to Lake Timberline.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH S. MILLIKIN. They were united in marriage in an evening ceremony at Grace Baptist Church. Formerly Brenda S. Wood, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Wood, Holiday Mobile Home Park.

Grace Baptist scene of Millikin-Wood wedding

Miss Brenda S. Wood, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore E. Wood, Holiday Mobile Home Park, and Joseph S. Millikin, 2842 Washington Ave., exchanged wedding vows on July 22 at Grace Baptist Church.

The Rev. Dr. William J. Fritts officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock in the evening.

For her wedding the bride chose a formal bridal gown created in white nylon organza with a fingertip veil edged with Venice lace and attached to Juliet cap, embellished with lace and seed pearls.

The long bishop sleeves, applied with lace motifs, were set into the Empire bodice lavishly accented with Venice lace which also formed the high neckline collar effect.

Lace appliques were repeated on the A-line skirt that fell softly into a chapel train. She held an elongated bouquet of white carnations and pink roses, festooned with pink and green streamers.

Maid of honor Miss Karen Wood and bridesmaid Miss Lisa Millikin, sisters of the bride and groom, respectively, were gowned alike in mint green dresses.

The A-line chiffon dresses were fashioned with Empire bodices, off the shoulder necklines enhanced with an embroidered ruffle and a dark floral stitching.

Mrs. Mauria Vaughn and Miss Pam Evans, also served as bridesmaids. They wore matching gowns in pink chiffon.

Each of the attendants wore picture hats in colors to match their attire and carried round bouquets of daisies and green carnations, tied with streamers in pink green and white.

Attending the groom as best man was Art Vaughn. Jeff and Randy Millikin, brothers of the groom, and Curt Edwards, were groomsmen.

Ushers included David Nichols and Dean Evans.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall immediately following the service. The groom's parents hosted a dinner at the Baptist Grounds hall, for members of the bridal party following the church rehearsal.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wood selected a mint green floor length gown designed with a Queen Anne neckline, accented with lace on the neckline and cuffs of the long sleeves.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Nichols, appeared in a long rose color polyester dress featuring long sleeves.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School North. They are residing in Granite City after a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND VAUGHN. 2901 Faith Ave., who were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary at a reception given at the City Temple Church.

Raymond Vaughns mark 25 years

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vaughn Sr., 2901 Faith Ave., were honored on their 25th wedding anniversary at a reception held at the City Temple Assembly of God Church on Maryville Road, last week.

Preceding the social affair the honoree's repeated their wedding vows in the church sanctuary with the Rev. Eugene Cose officiating.

Mr. Vaughn and his wife, the former Mrs. Hazel Waggoner, were married on Aug. 1, 1953, in Granite City.

They both belong to City Temple Church and Mr. Vaughn is also a member of Protestant Welfare.

Mr. Vaughn retired from General Steel Industries in 1971, and Mrs. Vaughn was formerly employed at Cline's Restaurant.

She has two sons and a daughter, Robert and Richard Waggoner, and Mrs. Keata Radeff, all of Granite City. Mr. Vaughn is the father of two sons, Raymond Vaughn Jr., of High Ridge, Mo., and Darrell Vaughn of Granite City, and a daughter, Mrs. Roma Ballard, Hopewell, Va.

Illinois was honored with three national awards at the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs' convention that concluded last week in San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Two of the honors received by the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women were directly attributable to the efforts of Granite City BPW Club members.

Linda L. Wetton, 3139 Princeton Drive, was selected as the national speaking champion in the individual development speak-off program.

Miss Wetton won the top honor over 20 young women, representing other states. Dorothy Spinks of Virginia and Veronica Miller of California were second and third-place finalists, respectively.

Under the leadership of Annelen Smith of Granite City, the Illinois BPW Federation was recipient of the national Winged Victory Award and Ship of Commerce Blue Ribbon for the greatest percentage increase in membership in 1977-78.

Each member of the Illinois Federation was presented an inscribed blue ribbon, a memento of the feat, provided by Directions Unlimited.

The Illinois Federation also was the winner of the National Foundation Award for making the largest contribution to the National Foundation of Business and Professional Women.

Primary function of the Foundation is the awarding of scholarships and grants to women wishing to further their education in business or the professions.

The Foundation is responsible for the Foundation Library in Washington, D.C., the only library in the United States devoted solely to information concerning the status of women.

Illinois had the second largest delegation of members at the 1978 convention, surpassed only by Texas, the home state of Geraldine R. Eison of Fort Worth, the new president of the National BPW Federation.

At the installation, Mrs. Eison, first vice-president of a Fort Worth bank, succeeded Piliati C. Desha of Hawaii in the top BPW office.

The 1978 national meeting was held in the luxurious surroundings of the new Condo Convention Center complex in San Juan.

The newly-constructed edifice stands on the ocean front and is adjoined by the La Concha and La Condo hotels.

All meetings and special programs were centrally located in the convention center or adjacent hotels.

A total of 3,028 delegates, alternates and members attended the working sessions, with close to 4,300 persons participating in the Puerto Rican trip.

Candidates seeking national office who won in the 1978 balloting were:

Julia K. Arri of California, an accountant and tax consultant, president-elect; Dorine Chancellor of Arizona, a business educator at Eastern Arizona University, with degrees under bright, sunny skies. A constant breeze from the trade winds swept from the sea.

Some members motored to Fajardo on the eastern end of the island and enjoyed a six-hour sailing cruise on board the catamaran, Spreadeagle, to Icacos, an uninhabited island, a picnic lunch and an afternoon of skindiving at the coral reefs.

Most took advantage of the short flight to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, a free port, where jewelry, liquor, perfumes and other items may be purchased duty-free.

Other activities enjoyed were deep-sea fishing, golf, tennis, scuba diving and "an afternoon at the races," featuring a BPW race on the card.

Trips were made to the El Yunque rain forest and by ferry to the Bacardi Rum Distillery. Of special interest were visits to the walled city of Old San Juan, guarded by the San Cristobal and El Morro fortresses.

The Puerto Rico BPW Federation hosted "Conquistador night" at the Caribe Hilton Hotel, with an evening of folkloric dancing, island beverages, roast pig and flamenco entertainment in a tropical setting.

The 1979 convention is scheduled for July 22 in Boston.

Bernadine Qualls, 38, of 1934 Cleveland Blvd., has been found innocent of robbery at the First Granite City National Bank in a bench trial before Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian.

Mrs. Qualls was charged with taking $2,500 from a teller in the bank after handing her a note which read, "This is a stickup. Put all the money in the bag and be quiet."

After hearing evidence in the case, Judge Matosian ruled her innocent by reason of insanity and was remanded to the state mental health department.

It was learned this week that Mayor Schuler will issue a proclamation setting a specific day to pay tribute to Miss Wetton and asking the community to join in honoring her.

The young woman, who will teach this fall in Germany, was notified Thursday she will leave the United States Thursday, Aug. 17.

Prior to this summer, she taught seventh and eighth grade classes at Sacred Heart School for four years.

A 1970 graduate of Granite City High School South, she holds a bachelor of science degree in history and secondary education from Eastern Illinois University at Charleston.

She has been working toward a second degree in English at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Attending were Lois Wetton, club president; LaVelle Stephens president-elect, and Annelen Smith, Barbara Hodges, Valerie Evenden, Anna Mae Gates, Gladys Newman, Marionette Lambert, Betty Nugent, Dorothy Finkle of Edwardsville, who is past state president, Maxine Mullens, Collinsville BPW president, Marie Williams of the Fairview-Edgemont BPW Club, Alice Siebing of St. Louis and Jo Ann Baldwin of Waukegan, a college classmate of Miss Wetton.

A bouquet was sent to Miss Wetton by Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler on behalf of the city and was presented to the speaking champion when she was officially announced as the winner.

To achieve the national prominence, Miss Wetton won the individual development speak-off contests at the local and district levels, and then captured top honors at the state convention in the spring to become Illinois champion.

Her winning talk, based on "Freedom," focused on the topic, "The Responsibility of Women in the Third Century."

Several local women joined BPW members from other clubs for a week-long cruise throughout the Caribbean after the national convention formally concluded. They were scheduled to arrive in Granite City yesterday.

A variety of activities were offered the conferees while in San Juan, where temperatures averaged 84 degrees under bright, sunny skies. A constant breeze from the trade winds swept from the sea.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to law in such case made and provided, public notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendments to the Illinois Constitution will be submitted to the voters of the State of Illinois for adoption or rejection at the General Election to be held on November 7, 1978.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 6 OF ARTICLE IX

Section 6. PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXATION. (a) The General Assembly by law may classify personal property for purposes of taxation by valuation, abolish such taxes on any or all classes of property, or the levy of taxes in lieu of the taxation of personal property by valuation.

(b) Any ad valorem personal property tax abolished on or before the effective date of this Constitution shall not be reinstated. (c) The General Assembly by law may abolish all ad valorem personal property taxes and concurrently therewith shall enact a law to replace all revenue lost by units of local government and school districts as a result of the abolition of ad valorem personal property taxes subsequent to January 2, 1971. Such revenue shall be replaced by imposing state-wide taxes thereon and ad valorem taxes on real estate, solely on those classes relieved of the burden of paying ad valorem personal property taxes because of the abolition of such taxes subsequent to January 2, 1971. If any taxes imposed for such replacement purposes are taxes on or measured by income, such replacement taxes shall not be considered for purposes of the limitations of one tax and the rate of 5 percent set forth in Section 3(a) of this Article.

SCHEDULE

The foregoing Amendment to Section 6 of Article IX of the Constitution shall be submitted to the voters of the State of Illinois at the General Election to be held on November 7, 1978.

FORM OF BALLOT

The proposed amendment to Article IX will appear upon the constitutional ballot in the following form:

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO SECTION 6 OF ARTICLE IX

(Personal Property Tax)

EXPLANATION OF PROPOSED AMENDMENT

The personal property tax now is imposed on corporations, partnerships and trusts, and any replacement taxes must be imposed on them. Individuals have been exempt from the personal property tax since 1971, and replacement taxes may not be imposed on them.

Article IX, Section 6(c) of the Illinois Constitution now requires that the legislature abolish all personal property taxes on or before January 1, 1979 and simultaneously replace the abolished taxes with new taxes sufficient to replace revenues lost by local governments and school districts. The proposed Constitutional Amendment eliminates the January 1, 1979 date for abolition and replacement of the tax. Further, the proposed Amendment makes permissive, rather than mandatory, the requirement that the legislature abolish the tax. This Amendment does not change the requirement for replacing the personal property tax in the event the legislature abolishes it.

Pope Paul able, compassionate leader in troubled times

People of all faiths are saddened by the passing of a major world spiritual leader. Pope Paul VI, 80, stricken by a fatal heart attack yesterday.

The 262nd head of the Roman Catholic, he served as pope for 15 years, completing a variety of initiatives started by Pope John XXIII and also emphasizing the goals of peace and Christian unity.

In office during a period of extreme change and turmoil Pope Paul was steadfast on such traditional issues as birth control and priestly celibacy but helped modernize many church procedures, and was compassionate toward those who differed with his views.

He will be remembered as a kindly, gifted individual who worked unselfishly for the betterment of the more than 600 million Catholics and for all of mankind. His vision of a more perfect world was not fully realized, but if it is someday his contribution to the attainment will be judged as substantial.

Road, rail explosion hazard demonstrated close to home

As a major center of railroad lines and highways, the Quad City area is vulnerable along with many other communities to the accidental detonation of hazardous shipments.

The point was brought uncomfortably close to home Sunday as a propane-filled rail tank car exploded during a derailment on the Illinois Terminal Railroad crossing at Keebler Avenue just north of Collinsville.

Only one serious injury occurred, but hundreds had to be evacuated from their homes. And there was danger of increased damage due to the close proximity of other tank cars to the furiously-blasting car.

Continuing strong attention is needed, here and nationwide, to reduce such hazards as much as possible—including possibly restricting the routes utilized in transporting the hardest-to-control commodities.

And it seems obvious that more effort needs to be devoted to maintaining railroad rights-of-way in tip-top condition. It's a urgent matter of life and death.

Dollar plunging downward, all must help in rescuing it

Press-Record Washington Bureau

The dollar's continuing decline in value abroad is disquieting, despite the fact that it has some good economic effects.

If the American people look to the long range, they will support the necessary actions to shore up the dollar, even though such actions cause some temporarily painful consequences.

There is no single magic answer because there is no single cause for the devaluation of the dollar.

There is no agreement among the economists as to any single dominant cause. Economics, unfortunately, is not an exact science.

Only by taking a number of actions against a number of possible causes can we be confident that our efforts will be successful.

Eliminate the staggering deficit in our balance of payments by reducing imports and increasing exports. This applies particularly to our huge imports of foreign oil.

Reduce the budget deficits which have run the federal debt to nearly double what it was in 1970 and increased the sum of our money in circulation by a similar factor, while the gold stock in our monetary reserves has been dwindling.

Free trade should continue. The dollar should be allowed to reach its own level. That will automatically have the effect of decreasing our imports and increasing our exports.

But it will also increase inflation here as the currency established for setting the price of oil.

Some serious belt-tightening is in order. Labor, business and government must cooperate to save the dollar.

The FORUM

City shouldn't copy the Big Apple

To the Editor:

Hasn't Alderman Roy Poulos anything better to do with his time on the City Council? Or is he contemplating going into the doggy diaper business on the side?

Granite City can't breathe the dirtiest air in the state of Illinois, and Mr. Poulos is worried about the "unsightly and unhealthy" conditions created by man's best friend. If we're going to fine pet lovers for not potty-training their puppies as to when and where to deposit their soil, let us also assess fines against all property-owners who do not catch the birds that fly over their land and also teach them to be more cautious.

This could go on and on!

If the Big Apple (New York City) wants to make itself ludicrous, I see no reason why Granite City should follow suit. A few doggie droppings here and there on a city street may be a nuisance, but I seriously doubt the nuisance is sufficient to waste the council's time and voting on it — or the city attorney to waste his time drafting this could go on and on!

No, I don't even own a dog!

WOMAN'S NAME WITHHELD

Two injured at Nameeki-Cottage

A collision on Nameeki Road at Cottage Avenue at 2:05 p.m. Sunday, involved vehicles operated by George G. Head, 3801 Lake Drive, Lot 151, and William M. Davis, 3240 Aubrey Ave.

George Head and Shirley Head, a passenger in his vehicle, reportedly sustained injuries in the mishap.

Probe hubcap thefts by four

Activities of four boys ages 15, 16, 17 and 18, are being investigated after an attempted theft in the K-Mart parking lot at 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Greg Blair, 3655 Nameeki Road, said he saw two of the youths taking hubcaps off his parked car. He chased the youths, catching one who had a tire tool in his hand.

Two of the hubcaps were found in a field behind K-Mart.

The four allegedly were riding in the 18-year-old's car, who is believed to have offered the 15 and 16-year-old boys money if they would get the hubcaps.

The 18-year-old has denied the allegations of the other boys.

Burglary today at Gail's Market

At 6:15 a.m. today, a patrolling officer found a plate glass window broken at the front of Gail's Market, 2459 Benton St. The window is located near the checkout counter.

The only items found to be missing at this time are 40 packs of cigarettes and a four-carton display rack, valued at $39.

Allege disorderly conduct, battery

Charges of battery and disorderly conduct were signed against Carmen R. Hahne, 22, of 1651 St. Madison, who was arrested at 7:45 p.m. Sunday, following a disturbance in which he allegedly yelled obscenities and fought with his brother Charles Hahne, cutting him above the right eye.

Charles Hahne signed a complaint against his brother alleging battery, and both Charles and Sheila Hahne signed complaints charging Carmen Hahne with disorderly conduct.

Driver hurt

John Hamm, 24, of 1432 Sixth St., Madison, was treated at 1:27 p.m. Sunday for multiple cuts and bruises to his left side and then released.

An auto driven by Hamm and one driven by a Cecil V. Creton, 19, Edwardsville, collided at Sixth St. and Madison Avenue at 12:44 p.m. Sunday.

Creton was given a traffic citation charging disobeying a traffic signal. He was northbound on Madison Avenue as Hamm was crossing eastbound.

HOME BURGLARIZED

Mrs. Ivan Cowan, 212 Granville St., discovered that between Sunday, July 30, and 10:23 p.m. Saturday, thieves entered her home by forcing the back door and stole an eight-track AM-FM radio valued at $40, and $25 in cash.

IT'S THE REAL THING at St. Elizabeth Hospital as a special campaign to make associates more aware of "respect toward others" has been started. Discussing the effects of the new program are Miss Berry Rounds, left, procedures specialist for the hospital, Lyman Morris, center, maintenance department, and Mrs. Peggy Herzog of the personnel department.

Courtesy emphasis by staff at hospital

Preventive medicine — that's a good portion of the logic behind a courtesy program under way at St. Elizabeth Hospital, according to the program's instructor, Berry Rounds.

"A program like this might give people an impression that corrective measures are being taken. That's not necessarily true, but it is fairly typical thinking," one associate hears about the bad.

"Our people are doing their job well, and this class is only serving as a recognition of the good job being done and also as a reminder to keep it up," she explained today.

The program is divided into three sessions that are composed of 30- to 40-minute informal presentations by Miss Rounds, Associate (employee) participation is encouraged.

Each session carries a different emphasis. The first emphasizes the importance of every job at the hospital — that everyone is an essential member of a team. It stresses a display of professionalism and competence on the part of all personnel.

"When a patient enters St. Elizabeth Hospital, he is uneasy the deputies' car plus his own gas, oil, house job and everything which would be put on the county's tab."

Q. "Why did you tell Cooper that you had something on Burns? Cooper wasn't involved in this."

A. "I realized this, but I made a mistake. I let it be known to Cooper through conversation that I had Burns nailed."

Q. "Was that the only indication you ever gave to Cooper that you had something on a deputy?"

A. "Did you tell him other deputies?"

Q. "I didn't tell him other deputies, but I let him feel that there was guys, and he knew this — that there were guys on the take up around Myrene's, but had no idea who it was. He did think it was somebody, but I never told him who."

Q. "Did you tell him about Gilchrist?"

A. "No."

Q. "Did you tell anybody about Gilchrist?"

A. "No sir, except Demos Nicholas."

Q. "You only had a couple of meetings with Demos Nicholas present, is that right? The rest of the time you met with the sheriff?"

A. "Right."

Later in the questioning:

Q. "Now I understand that your previous statements have been that the money you collected was turned over to the sheriff, is that right?"

A. "Yes sir."

Q. "Now what did the sheriff do with the money?"

A. "Like I told the FBI agents, I hope it's in evidence."

Q. "Isn't that kind of wishful thinking at this point?"

A. "It sure is at this point."

Q. "After all, isn't it a fact the IRS charged you with receiving $100 a week from Walter Young?"

A. "No, it was for pickups."

Q. "They credited you with income from Walter Young?"

A. "They credited me with all the pickups."

Q. "Right. I think the grand jury wonders why Sheriff Maers didn't simply inform the IRS that the money you had received from Young had been passed on to him. Therefore, it wasn't income to you and you didn't have to pay taxes on it."

A. "I tried to do this. I had two IRS agents, Mr. Qualls and I can't think of the other gentleman's name, at my home."

"I called the sheriff and advised him I was being audited by the IRS. He was being questioned, supposedly on some pickups I made an investigation on."

"Mr. Maers at that time acted like he didn't know what I was talking about."

"That's why I said earlier, that we haven't talked since it happened. He left me out on a limb."

"To this day, he has never come to my aid to say what I had been doing."

"Every time I called up there and told the IRS agents, I tried to get him to come and talk to them."

"I believe they had to almost subpoena him to get him to come down, and question him."

Q. "Your understanding is he denied again that he ever received money from you?"

A. "I don't know. I've been told this through my talks with the investigators from your office."

Q. "Why do you suppose the sheriff turned on you like that?"

A. "Because this thing had mushroomed since when I was doing this investigation. I had about 20 deputies that were on the take in some form or another, and I told the sheriff about it. Nothing was ever done."

"These deputies were never suspended. Nothing ever happened to them."

"I got to be the bad guy, like I told you.

and frightened. Our mere size said. The final session is an exercise in communication skills.

With a program partner, the associate shares ideas on listening, sincerity and understanding.

"We're not dealing with numbers. Empathy is important."

"When we remind ourselves that the patient here is upset, that he is preoccupied with 'me,' then we can be a little more appreciative of how important the simple, little courtesies are to him," she concluded.

They started following me. I ceased my investigation.

"I was being harassed. You know, I performed an investigation and ended up getting harassed."

"A couple of deputies got a promotion out of it and I paid Uncle Sam $6,000."

Q. "Where did you get that money to pay the tax bill?"

A. "I got $3,500 out of my wife's and my savings account that we had saved for 15 years."

"The other $3,000 I borrowed from Gateway Loan in Madison, but prior to that I called the sheriff and asked him if there was anyway he could talk to the IRS people and explain to them and pay this on my taxes."

Q. "Let's talk about the City of Madison. The grand jury is aware of allegations that the police department in Madison has also been shaking down establishments."

"In fact, the grand jury is aware of allegations that you in concert with Officer Gocian and a Sergeant Kriesch were victimizing various taverns within the City of Madison."

"Now did you perform any kind of an undercover operation in Madison as well?"

A. "No sir, this is like I explained to you, this is where my problem ran on into money."

"This all happened after my investigation with the sheriff's department. I got labeled as a bagman."

"There was, in fact, prostitution going on in the City of Madison. There was gambling."

"This was known to all 13 members of the police department, and known to the mayor of that city and several aldermen. We have complained about it."

"I complained and threatened to arrest Norma Bosworth, who ran a tavern at that time. I threatened her on several occasions if she didn't stop the gambling or hustling over the bar."

"We have done the same thing at Big Jon's, trying to stop it. But everyone was aware of it and I, as an individual, or Lieutenant Kriesch or Patrolman Gocian, we worked the night shift and were aware of it like everybody else and we had two detectives that were aware of it."

"You don't do nothing unless someone higher up tells you to do it, but we still on our own tried to break it up."

"But like I told Norma Bosworth when she ran her tavern, there was a card game going on and she told me to break it up. She said, 'Don't give me this bull. You're taking a payoff like the rest of the guys.'"

Q. "Is it surprising to you that many members characterized as a bagman, since you were going all over to taverns telling people you were a bagman?"

A. "No sir, I have to live with that now."

Q. "It's sort of a natural conclusion."

A. "Right."

wouldn't need a transcript," Partney said, adding that he is willing to finance the purchase of a transcript if it is necessary.

He noted that the committee was instructed to take action by a vote of the full board.

Citing a federal trial in which three former policemen were convicted of racketeering and perjury, the Granite City member insists that numerous references were made to the sheriff department by trial witnesses.

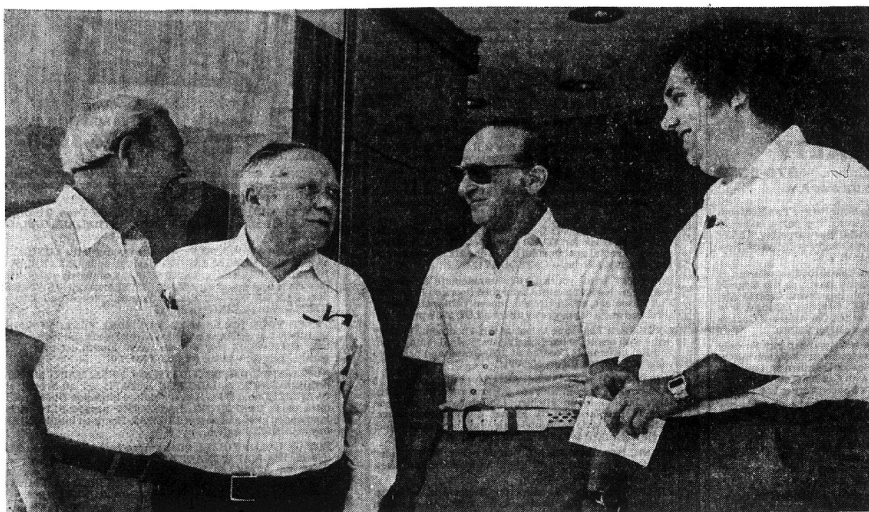

Taxpayers have a right to greater assurance than they have received regarding the sheriff department, Partney asserted.

OPEN HOUSE. City officials take a tour of the first home to be rehabilitated under a new housing program of the City of Granite City Friday, prior to a public open house which was held yesterday. The dwelling at 2605 Center St. will be sold by the city through bids to be called for later this month. The house features white aluminum siding, black shutters and trim, all new doors and windows, and new flooring and carpets. From left, in the front row, are: Alderman Ron Coleman, Seventh Ward; City Clerk Robert Stevens; Fifth Ward Alderman Lloyd Bailey and Mrs. Margaret Nomm; Everett Morlen, First Ward Alderman; Fourth Ward Alderman Warren Decatur, and Paul Fink, a member of the City Housing Rehabilitation Board. On the steps of the home are Mayor Paul Schuler (left) and Fourth Ward Alderman Glen Sprankle. The city purchased the house and called for bids for the renovation, which was done by Carl Yeager, low bidder.

THEATER EXECUTIVES on Thursday discuss reopening of Washington Theater on Friday, Aug. 11. From the left are Loren Worthen, spokesman for the investors who own the building, R. L. Wesemann, district manager, and Jack A. Jablonow, general manager, both of Mid-America Theaters, who will be operating the Washington

Theater; and Clarence Shaw, the new manager of the Washington who formerly managed a Mid-America theater in the Alton area. The downtown Granite City theater will open with the first-run feature, "Eyes of Laura Mars."

Probation on train looting

Ricardo Long, 18, of 54 Grenier Homes, Madison, has been sentenced by Circuit Judge A. A. Mateosian to serve three years of probation after pleading guilty to burglary. Long allegedly took tires, wheels and other equipment from new autos on a Norfolk & Western Railroad train near the Merchants Bridge in Venice. Windows in six cars were broken and the trunk lids of eight autos were pried open. Damage to the cars was estimated at $2,120 and the tires, wheels and equipment taken were worth $890, railroad officials said at the time. A 16-year-old arrested with Long faces juvenile court action.

A summer camp-with more

"A foul ball on the third strike and you're out," the umpire says.

"Hey, I don't like this kind of ball," the batter complains as he tosses the blue aluminum bat behind the screen. "The catcher missed the foul tip."

The catcher, Wesley Joshi-way, just grins as he waits for the next batter to step up to the plate. Lemond Jenkins, his pitcher, grins back.

The softball game plus six other sports activities played on the intramural fields at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville this summer are part of the National Youth Sports Program sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the federal Community Service Agency and the university.

Each day for five summer weeks and selected days during the school year, eligible young people learn to swim the breaststroke, fill out a job application, throw a runner out at second, serve a tennis ball, or beat their own time at the 60-yard dash at 137 locations in the nation.

In its seventh year at SIUE, the program attracts 229 participants from 10 to 18 years old, with a 70 percent return from last year.

"It's like a summer camp but it's more," according to Dan Thornton, SIUE coach and director of the program. "It's fun and it's learning."

The learning that begins on the softball diamond in the morning moves with the various age groups and the fun throughout the day.

At the volleyball court, 11 and 12-year-olds in cut-off jeans and knee socks listen as Lincoln High School senior Keith Ward warns them to "get under the ball but not too close" for the setup. "Just remember the rules," he says. "If you touch that net, the referee is going to blow that whistle and it's going to be the other man's ball."

Down the field, Livingston High School coach Ed Sievers urges 15 and 16-year-old girls to "run right through the" and the stopwatch he holds at the makeshift 50-yard finish line. Barefooted Christ Coleman's 6.8 makes him stop to check the list for a possible relay team.

The Nastase and Bjorn Borg volley an imaginary ball across the net as they wait for SIUE tennis instructor Bob Meyers to explain again why three points is 40-love, not 45.

Before the buses return for the ride back home at 2:30 p.m., each youth will also learn to use his babysitting as previous experience on a job application, and his appetite on a hot dog and chocolate cake lunch. Another day, they will watch shiny behind the soccer ball or spend floating time in the nearby lake.

For the softball players, however, the most important lesson every day is learning not to hit that foul ball on the third strike.

A $40 radio was taken from the auto of Mark A. Davis, 226 Shirlene Drive, and two radios with a combined value of $129 were stolen from two cars owned by Robert Fowler, 2180 Shirlene Drive, along with a wallet and credit cards in one of the cars. A coat hanger was believed used to unlock the doors.

Citizens' band radios were stolen from the cars on Shirlene Drive, it was discovered last week. A $40 radio was taken from the auto of Mark A. Davis, 226 Shirlene Drive, and two radios with a combined value of $129 were stolen from two cars owned by Robert Fowler, 2180 Shirlene Drive, along with a wallet and credit cards in one of the cars. VENICE-MADISON CONCERTS GRANT

Grants totaling $33,320 have been awarded to arts organizations in Madison, Pike and St. Clair counties by the Illinois Arts Council. The council awarded a record $1,360,367 to 342 programs of non-profit organizations in its late summer grant-making meeting at the University of Chicago.

Madison County's Alton Civic Orchestra, with $2,500, and the Alton Youth Symphony, with $1,000, plan to use the funds for their 1978-79 seasons.

The Venice-Madison Fine Arts Commission has tagged its $880 grant for future concerts.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was awarded $15,000, one of the largest grants given, for its performing arts training.

The Pittsfield Theatre Guild, serving Pike County residents, received two grants, $8,000 to its 78-79 season, and $750 to its youth theater.

The Katherine Dunham Museum, located in St. Clair County, received $5,000 for its 78-79 programs.

The Philharmonic Society of Belleville plans to use its $3,000 funding for its 78-79 season, 435-6754, said.

As a guest at the meeting, Illinois Humanities Council Executive Director Dr. Marvin Vvater addressed the group briefly, telling of the Humanities Council's activities and expressing hope for "more systematic cooperation" between the two councils, since many of their programs and goals overlap.

A complete list of grants throughout the state will be published in the September-October issue of "The Arts in Illinois," Marienne Coplan, IAC public information officer, 111 N. Wabash, Chicago 60602, (312) 435-6754, said.

Probation for burglary

Madison County Circuit Judge Joseph J. Barr has released Richard Sears, 3503 Kirkpatrick Homes, on one year of probation after Sears pleaded guilty to burglary.

Sears was charged with being one of three persons who broke into the home of Sue Womack in the 2400 block of Madison Avenue May 15, taking a stereo and a portable television.
